LOCAL CHALLENGE PROJECT 2020: Accelerating the SDGs

PARTICIPATORY PROCESSES IN AN INDIGENOUS VILLAGE
RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The history of indigenous peoples is marked by struggles for their rights and recognition of their culture, their land, and their sustainable development of their own communities, preparing them for dialogue and a sustainable society.

The role of indigenous communities is critical to the sustainable development and protection of the environment. This project is aimed at building a community of around 20 families, who will be able to participate in the construction of their own home, thus strengthening their community and improving their living conditions.
